Dr. Andrea Hilburn, a life-long learner, has been an educator for over 30 years. Dr. Hilburn is a very active Hamilton Park graduate. She attended Hamilton Park for Grades 3 through 12. Her younger siblings, two brothers and four sisters, also attended Hamilton Park. She and her husband were blessed with two children and six grandchildren.

Dr. Hilburn earned a Bachelor's degree from the University of North Texas (formerly North Texas State University). She and her line-sisters, the "Bodacious 8" of Delta Sigma Theta, Inc., were the catalyst for the first Greek show that stands today as one of the largest fundraising activities on that campus.

She received a Master's degree from Texas A & M Commerce (formerly East Texas State University). She developed a prototype for a Special Education Work Activity Center for the Dallas Independent School District which was later utilized by Mary Kay Cosmetics.

She prepared a Grandparent Study on Parental Involvement while studying for her Doctorate of Philosophy in Public Affairs at The University of Texas at Dallas.

During Dr. Hilburn's employment with the Dallas Independent School District, she has served as a classroom teacher, vocational counselor and administrator in several capacities including Principal, Executive Director and Assistant Superintendent. Andrea is currently a Human Resources Manager. She is responsible for the District-wide management of all evaluations for approximately 22,000 employees.

As an adjunct professor for Concordia University in Austin, Texas, Andrea instructs administrators aspiring to become principals in the DFW Graduate Program.
